DISCUSSION:

The Budget Act of 2014 provided funding to counties to develop a competitive grant program intended to fund community recidivism and crime reduction services. Each county was required to notify the Board of State and Community Correction (BSCC) of their interest in participating in this grant program by September 30, 2014. If accepted, counties were eligible to receive funds if the Board of Supervisors, in collaboration with the County's Community Corrections Partnership (CCP), agreed to develop a competitive grant program.

On September 16, 2014, the Board of Supervisors authorized the participation of Stanislaus County in the Community Recidivism Reduction Grant program, and authorized the Community Corrections Partnership to oversee the administration and oversight of the grant, including preparation of a Request for Proposals (RFP) and returning to the Board of Supervisors with recommendations for award of funds.

Grants are required to be awarded to a non-governmental entity or a consortium or coalition of non-governmental entities that provide community recidivism and crime reduction services to persons who have been released from state prison, a county jail or juvenile detention facility, who are under the supervision of a parole or probation department, or any other person at risk of becoming involved in criminal activities. Community recidivism and crime reduction services include, but are not limited to delinquency prevention, homelessness prevention, and re-entry services.

On October 20, 2014, the General Services Agency released the RFP. The RFP was sent to nineteen local agencies, and there were seven responses: Learning Quest, Nirvana, National Alliance on Mental Illness, Friends Outside, El Concilio, United Way, and Mi Vida Empieza. An evaluation committee was convened that included the District Attorney and staff from Probation, Chief Executive Office, Behavioral Health and Recovery Services, Sheriff's Department, and Superior Court. Four proposals were determined to meet the goals of the grant funding. The CCP has reviewed these recommendations and recommends approval of the four proposals.

DISCUSSION: (Continued)

Friends Outside – a pilot program, modeled after a successful one in Santa Cruz County that provides assertive outreach to those who are on the verge of triggering a warrant. This program plans to serve 150 probationers, of which 75 are expected to comply and avoid the issuance of a warrant. The agency has requested $15,016 over two years.

National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) Stanislaus – an expansion of mental health services at the Public Safety Center. NAMI will provide two “Peer to Peer Mentors” to facilitate eight 10-week Life Skills classes for persons diagnosed with mental illness or substance abuse addiction. This program plans to serve a minimum of 105 people. The agency has requested $17,088 over two years.

Learning Quest – to implement Pathways to GED, a program to help the recently incarcerated and alternative sentencing population successfully obtain a GED. Includes I-Pathways software access and purchasing the required GED curriculum materials for this specific program. The agency has requested $25,000 over two years.

Nirvana – to provide sober living housing, with drug and alcohol outpatient services included, for offenders in the criminal justice system or in jeopardy of being involved with criminal justice. The proposal is to fund 3 clients per month/36 clients per year, with an additional one bed provided by Nirvana. The agency has requested $25,000 over one year.

Counties receiving this funding will be required to collect and submit data to the BSCC. Service providers that receive an award are responsible for reporting to the CCP the number of individuals served and the types of services provided.

The Chief Probation Officer, as Chairperson of the CCP, is requesting approval to negotiate and sign contracts with the recommended service providers. It is also requested to approve adjustment of appropriations and revenue for this funding.

POLICY ISSUES:

Approval of this item to award Community Recidivism Reduction Grant Program funding from the Board of State and Community Corrections supports the Board’s stated goals and priorities of A Safe Community, A Healthy Community, and Effective Partnerships.

STAFFING IMPACT:

Acceptance of the Community Recidivism Reduction Grant will require minimal staffing resources related to administering the grant activities. These will be primarily from the Probation Department in support of the CCP, with existing staff and supported with a 5% administrative cost allowance in the grant.
